

Becky Wambsganss
Missionary, Retired

Fall 2021

Dear Pastor and Church,

It has been many months since I have written a letter. Partially due to not having a way to type a letter, but that is no excuse when I could have written longhand.

I spend my days attempting to serve the Lord through various means. I joined the group of Stephen Ministers in our church which gives me opportunities to serve people that are struggling due to a loss of loved one or any other crisis in their lives. I have time for personal Bible Study and prayer which I relish at this time.

God has been so good to supply all my needs and my family is always here to watch out for me. Twice this year I travelled to Wimberly, Texas to visit a dear friend who is now widowed and living in assisted living. Her husband, Rupert Neve, financed a large portion of the radio programs for Accent Radio. Mr. Neve died earlier this year and his wife Evelyn is alone, her family in England cannot get clearance to visit her due to COVID.

On a happier note, in the 1980's when we first started to work with Holger Grimme, the German man teaching in Mongolia, there were no known Christians in that country at the time. We helped fund, with the help of our churches, a translation project to have the Bible available in the Mongolian language. Now there are hundreds of churches in Mongolia! God opened the doors of that country and it is wonderful to see.

On a sadder note, the missionary we were helping in China had to take his family and leave. They returned to England and the last I heard, he was trying to find an agency that would help him get into Siberia, which borders on the area of China he was serving in.

As the times are getting more difficult for missionaries, it is time to pray! We have a great God who is in control of it all. Thank you for the support you send each month. As I have said before, if funds get so that you need what you send me to support a missionary on the front lines, please do so. Please know that I appreciate all you have done for our family over the years. May your Light shine and draw many to the Savior! Praying for you,

Maranatha!

Becky Wambsganss