Believing God's Promises and Adding to Our Faith

In my morning devotions of John 1-2, I saw an important aspect in the faith of the disciples of Christ. They believed that Jesus was the Christ, left all and followed him. And then, as they followed Jesus, they learned to believe his promises also. The miracle at Cana caused his disciples to believe on him in a greater way than before; "and his disciples believed on him." After the resurrection, they remembered what Jesus said about raising up the temple of his body after three days, and "they believed the scriptures and the word which Jesus had said."

Things that happen in our lives can move us to add to the faith that we already have. The second epistle of Peter expounds on this in chapter 1. Exceedingly great and precious promises have been given to us. We are urged to give all diligence to add to the faith that we already have. In so doing, we will abound and be fruitful for our Lord Jesus Christ. We are also warned that those who fail to do so are blind and not aware of what is to come. And then, we have a great promise of an abundant reception that we can receive into the everlasting Kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

World evangelization and church planting is something that is pursued by those that have added to their faith and believed God's promises. It is God's desire that the entire population of the world be exposed to the Gospel witness. God is calling men and women to be missionaries and church planters "to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people." God is moving churches not only to be His witnesses where they are, but also; to be the senders of the missionaries that he has called.

Saving faith in Jesus Christ is where we begin to follow Jesus. That faith is not enough if we are to do all that God has planned for us. In order for us to get to the place where God wants us, we must grow in faith. We must give all diligence to add to our faith. When God moves in our lives, we must respond with more belief in his Word and his promises. "For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." 2 Peter 1:11
